COVID-19 and school admission appeals

The DfE has published new legislation which took account of the coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak and its impact on carrying out admission appeals in the usual way. This legislation covers existing school appeals and came into force on 24 April 2020 and will remain in force until 30 September 2022.

The DfE have indicated that the new regulations will:

- Continue to give parents the right to appeal to any school which has refused their child a place
- Disapply the requirement that appeals panels must be held in person and instead give flexibility for panel hearings to take place in other forms, including by telephone, video conference or through a paper-based appeal where all parties can make representations in writing
